STORY

1607

Based on written records, the existence of the NORTH MILL is documented as early as 1607. The mill was historically linked to the nearby homestead in Hlavice. At that time, it functioned as a modest rural mill serving the local community and landscape.

1892

The year 1892 marked a defining architectural transformation of the mill. This reconstruction shaped its form, structural layout and many of the details that define its appearance today. The changes are confirmed through archival sources and historic inscriptions.

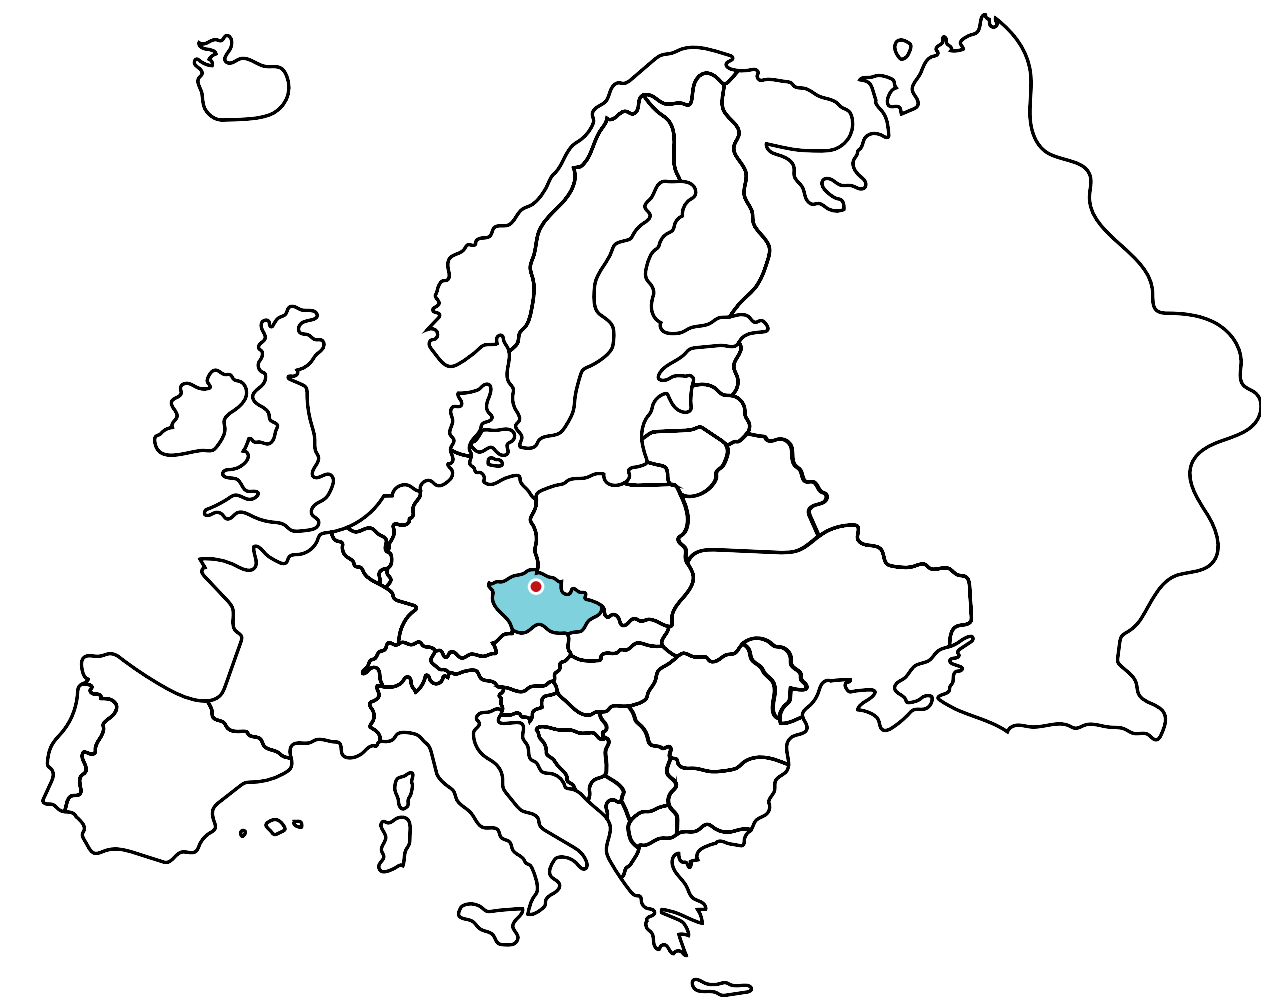

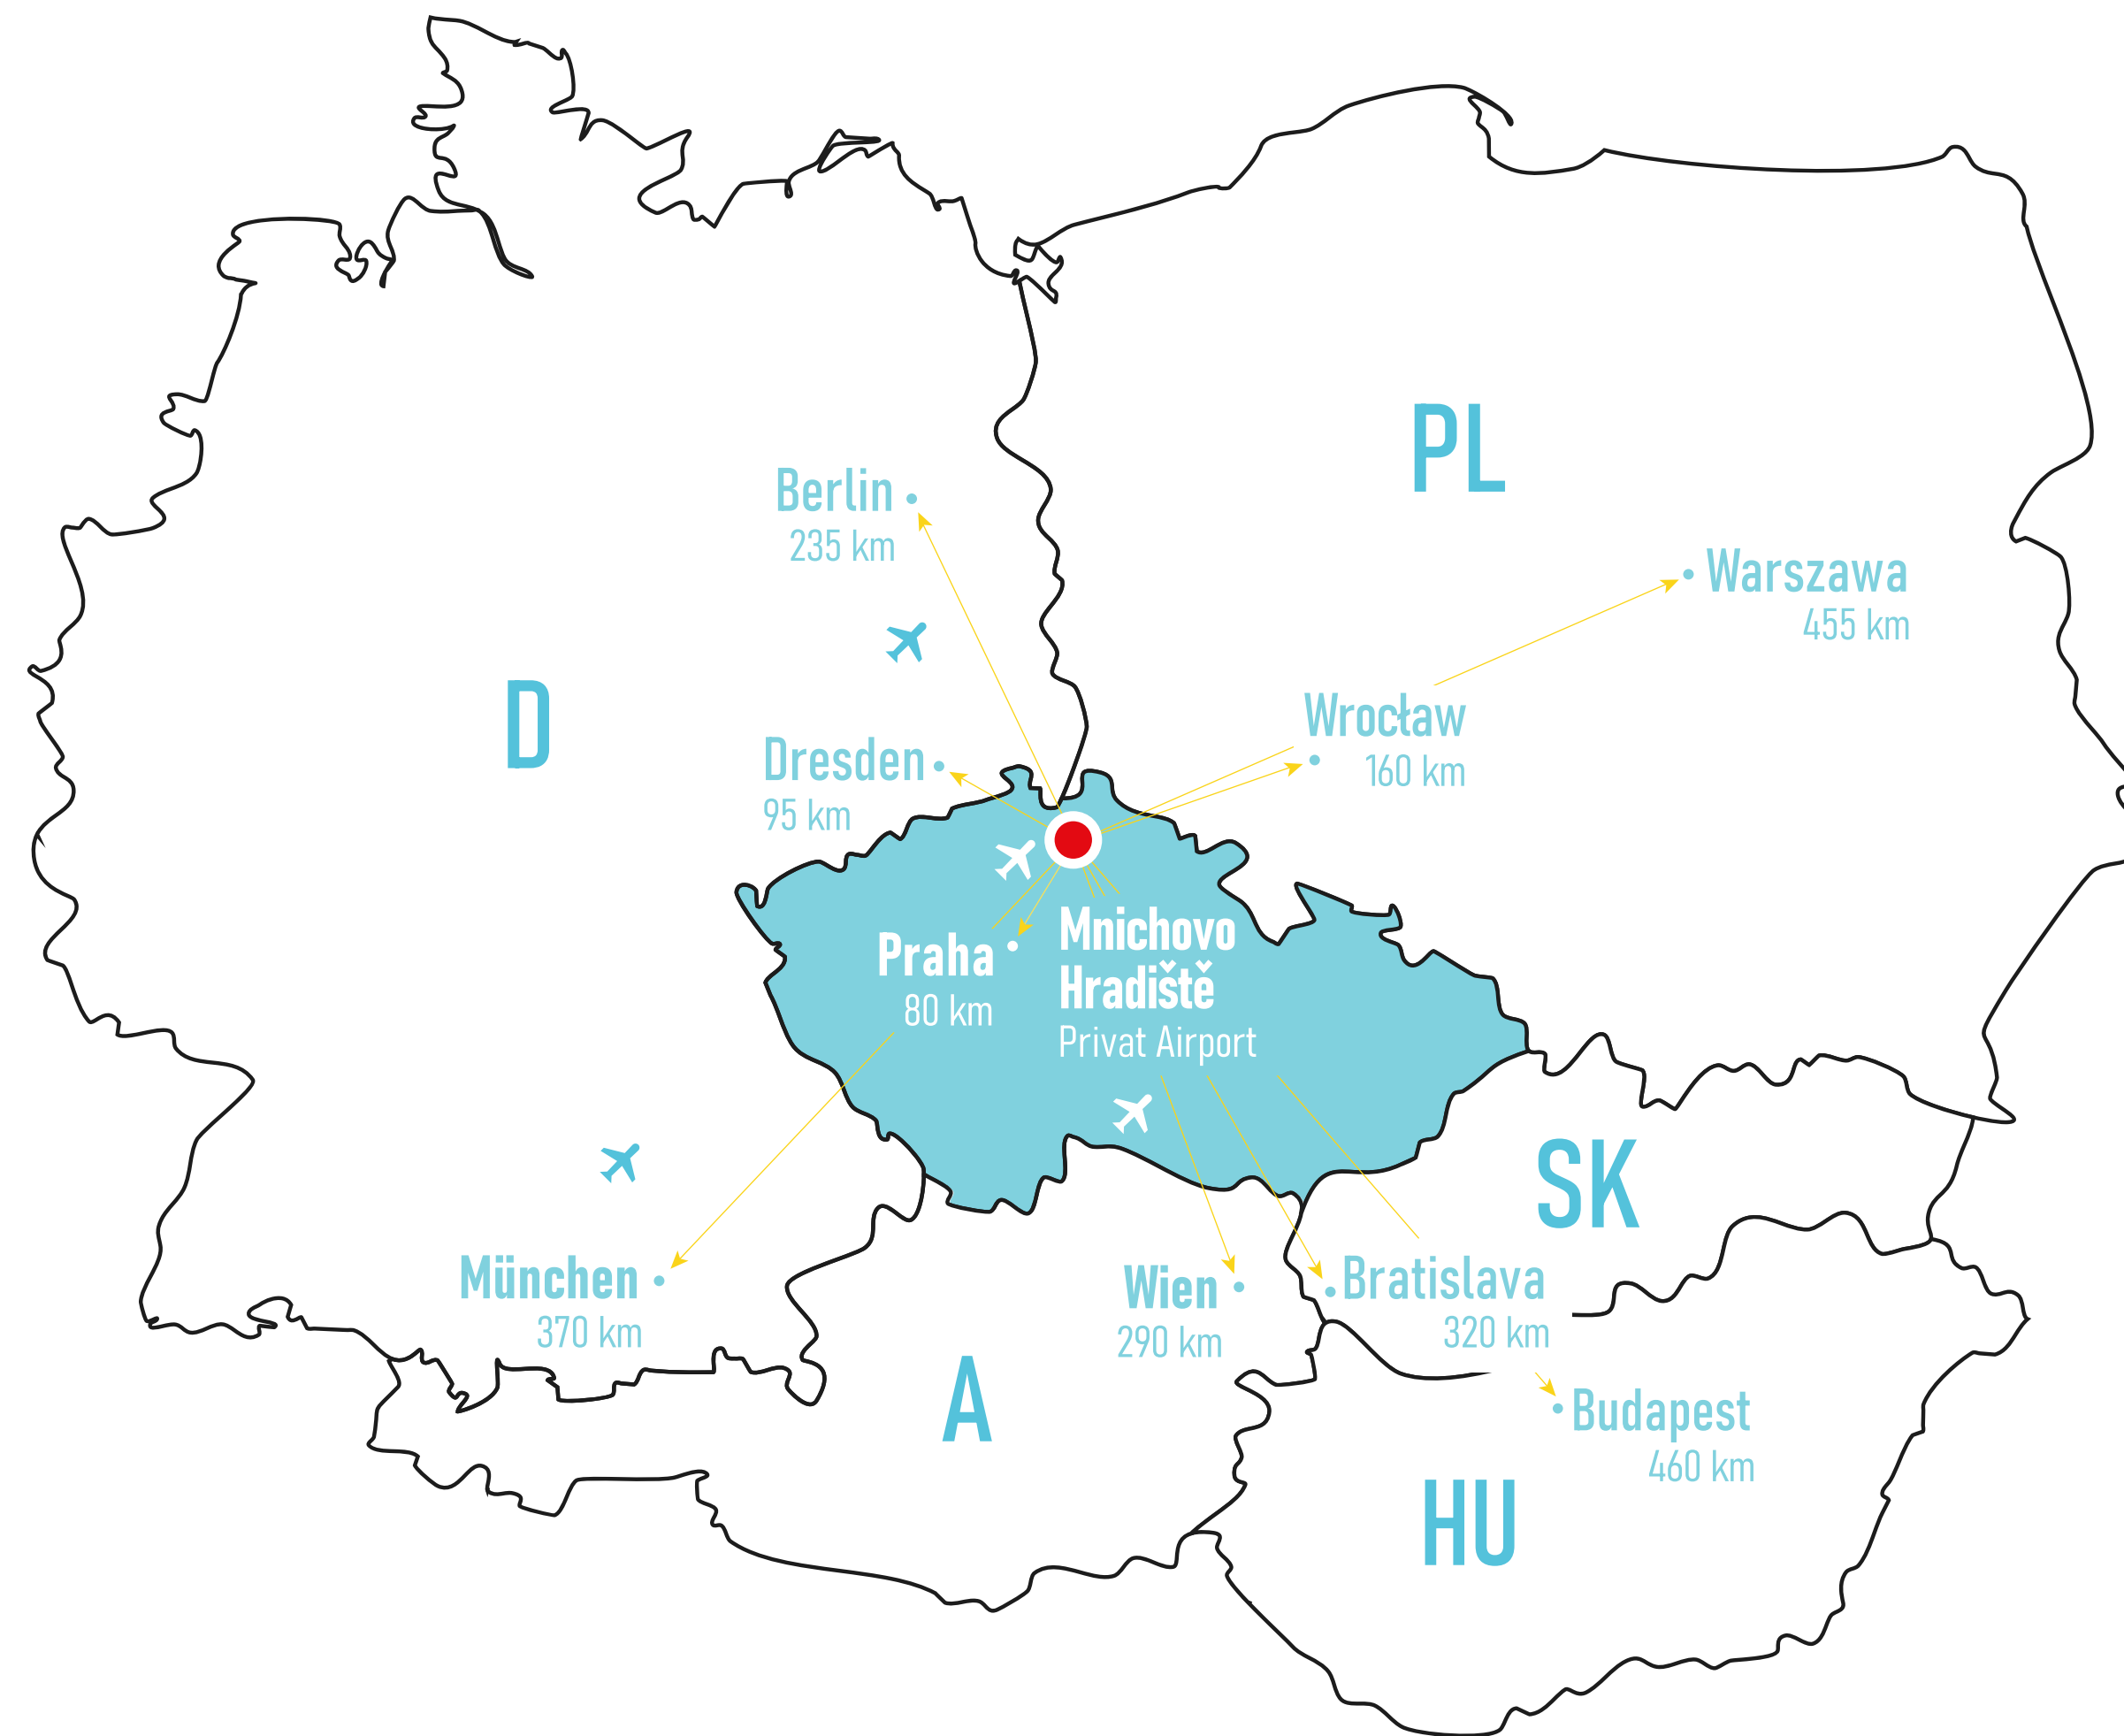

2015

In 2015, the NORTH MILL was acquired by its current private family owners. A clear vision guided the restoration from the very beginning. Respect for history, family values and local traditions became its essential principles. The long-term vision was to preserve the mill's spirit and integrity.

2025

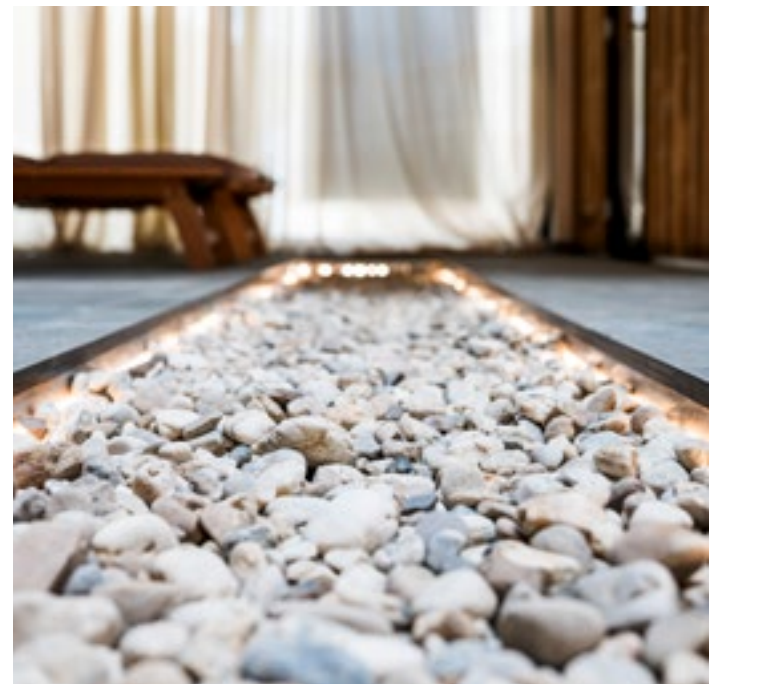

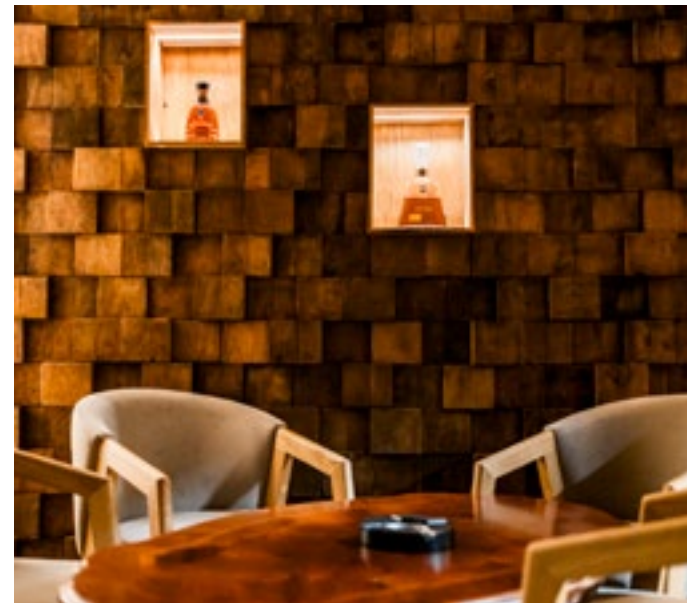

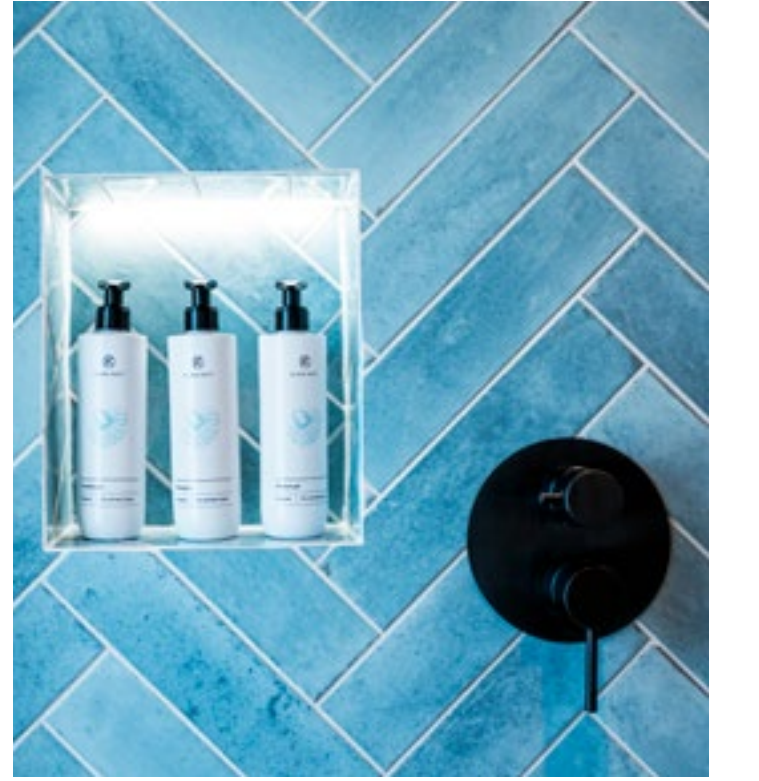

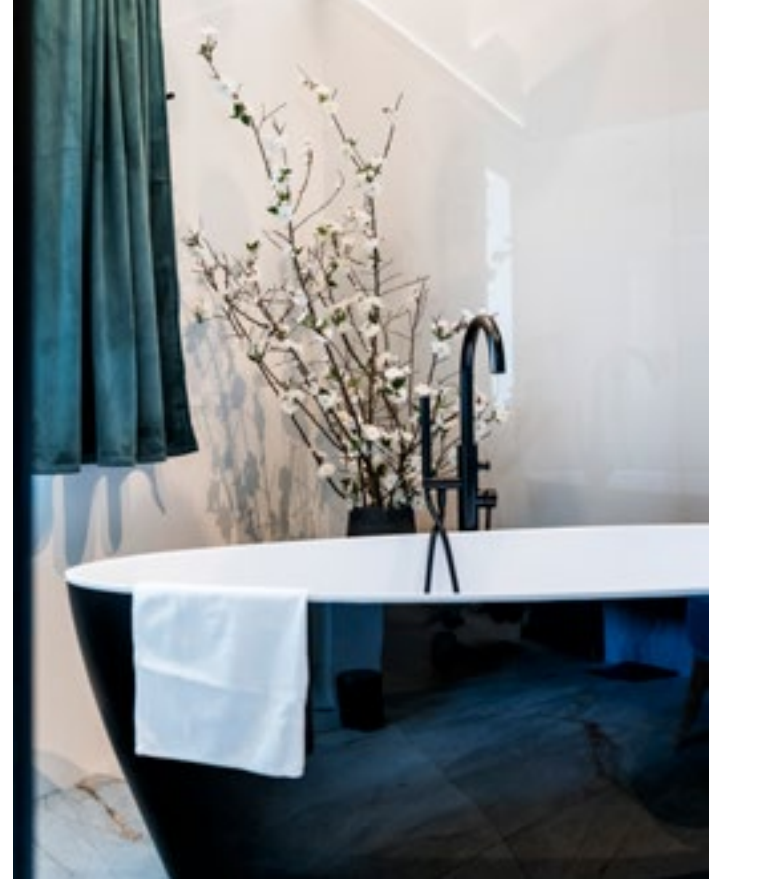

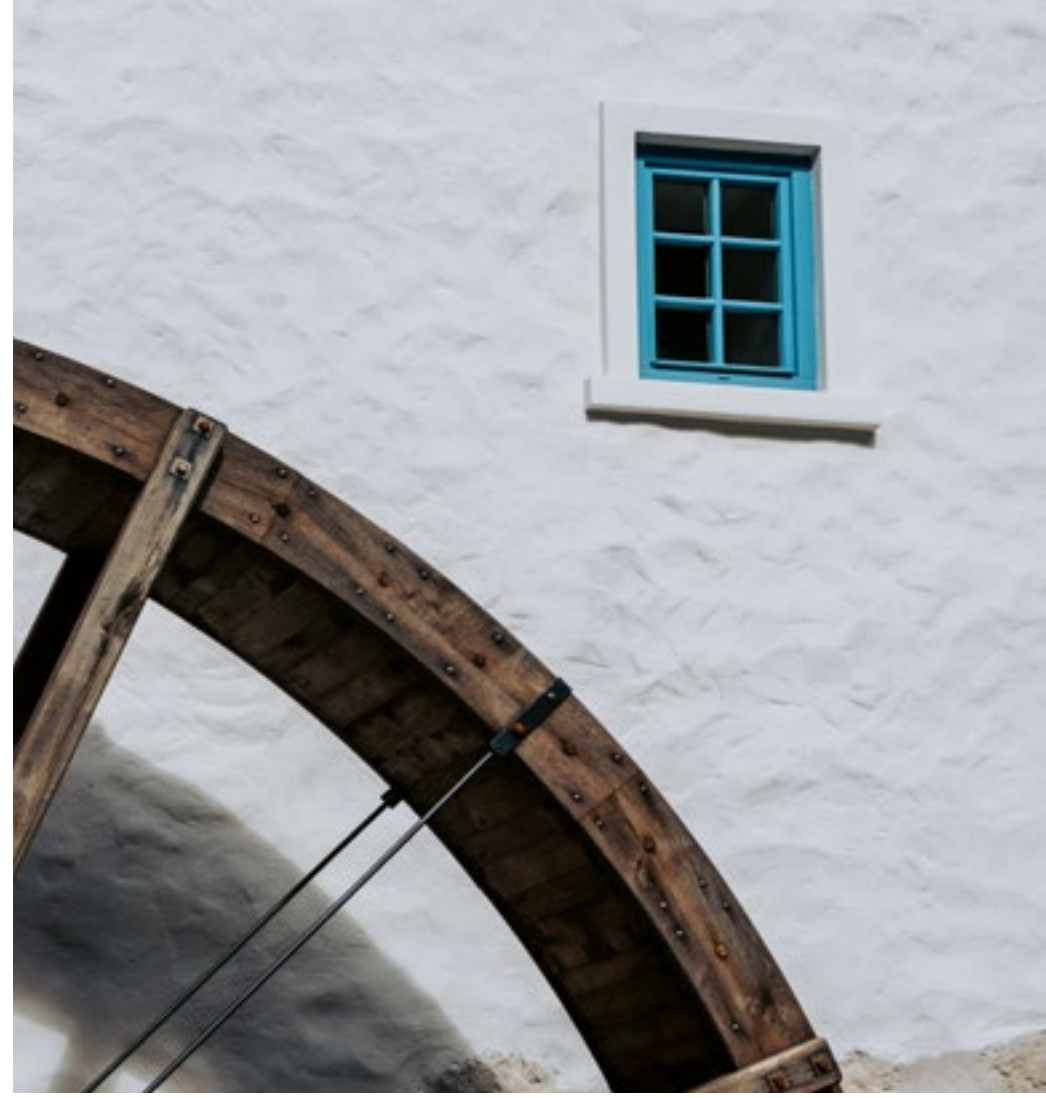

In 2025, the NORTH MILL opened as a boutique hotel surrounded by 5,000 m² of private land. The restoration balances historical authenticity and thoughtful design. Every space reflects respect for the building's past while serving modern needs. The mill now lives on as a place of quiet hospitality, continuity and enduring character.
